1. Approval of Committee Minutes

IPPC approved the Minutes from the February, 2016 meeting.

2. Committee on Intercultural and Global Understanding (CIGU) Recommendations

This agenda item was postponed until a future IPPC meeting (April 1, 2016)

3. President's Update

President Glotzbach provided a summary of the February Board of Trustees meeting, and noted that a campus update will be forthcoming later today via email with this and additional information. He reported that the Board:

- Unanimously approved Skidmore parent W. Scott McGraw as its chair. He will succeed Linda Toohey, who is stepping down from the Board as chair in May after serving fifteen years as a Trustee and four years as chair taking on this new position, Mr. McGraw will step down as co chair of the campaign committee but will continue to serve ex officio. He

- Approved the major parameters for the FY 2017 budget and the FY 2017 capital budget.
- In addition to these actions, the Board discussed various plans for funding the Center for Integrated Sciences (CIS), facilities plans for Athletics, plans for the new Admissions and Financial Aid building, and issues relating to diversity, inclusion, the protection of speech, and academic freedom. Regarding CIS funding, President Glotzbach noted that Chair Toohey and Chair-elect McGraw are assembling a CIS working group to look at funding options for this project and will bring this conversation back to IPPC prior to the May Board of Trustees meeting.

3. Task Force on Divestment Report and Recommendations: Board of Trustees' Response

President Glotzbach informed IPPC that the Board also approved a report responding to the recommendations of the Task Force on Divestment (TFD), which was chaired by Jim Kennelly and vicechaired by Karen Kellogg. President Glotzbach thanked Professors Kennelly and Kellogg and the entire Task Force on Divestment for their good work, including the Phase I Report and the Final Report.

In its report, the Board expressed its sincere appreciation for the work of the TFD. It accepted its primary recommendation not to pursue a strategy of "full divestment from all direct and indirect investments in the securities of fossil fuel companies at this time." The TFD made six additional recommendations, of which the Board was able to accept three, at least in part: to identify an investment vehicle focused on fossil and clean tech industries; to collaborate with other higher education institutions to encourage the creation of such high performing "green" funds; and to report annually to the community on progress we are making in these areas. The Board also reaffirmed its strong support of the College's efforts to reduce its carbon footprint and invest in clean energy and other technologies.

Professor Kennelly and Levi Ross, both members of the TFD, expressed their disappointment with the Board's response and further, expressed a desire to keep the conversation open. President Glotzbach is willing to continue working with the Board and with the NY6 colleges on alternative funds and reiterated his support for continued sustainability measures on campus. The President also noted that the Board's Investment Committee (IC) is looking into an alternative fund that the Board may be willing to invest in, and the IC will continue research into this fund and update the Board. President Glotzbach will then update the IPPC on this possible investment.

In closing, President Glotzbach again reiterated his deep appreciation of the TFD and his respect for this shared governance process.

4. Enrollment Management Group's Report on Standardized Testing

Mary Lou Bates reported that the Enrollment Management Group (EMG), formerly the IPPC Subcommittee on Admissions and Financial Aid, is again considering whether to adopt a test optional policy beginning in 2017 with the Class of 2021. This is the third or fourth time this consideration has been discussed in recent years.
